Mrs. E. C. Ellsworth, 1881

John Harrison Tenney

$\text{♩} = 75$

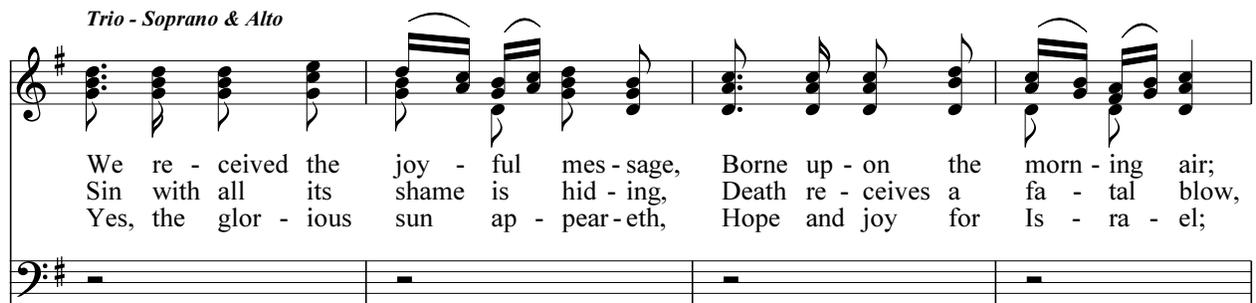

1. Go, pro - claim it to the peo - ple, Let the glor - ious tid - ings fly!
2. Go, pro - claim it to the peo - ple, Christ has con - quered ev - ery foe,
3. Lo! a light has burst up - on us, See the dark - ness flee a - way;

From the grave our Lord has ris - en, Ne - ver - more shall Je - sus die!
Burst the bars of death a - sun - der, He de - feat shall ne - ver know;
In the bright - ness of His ris - ing, Com - eth now the prom - ised day;

Trio - Soprano & Alto

We re - ceived the joy - ful mes - sage, Borne up - on the morn - ing air;
Sin with all its shame is hid - ing, Death re - ceives a fa - tal blow,
Yes, the glor - ious sun ap - pear - eth, Hope and joy for Is - ra - el;

Refrain

Tell, O tell it to the peo - ple, Let them all the glad - ness share.
That He is the prom - ised Sav - ior, All the world shall quick - ly know. Ring, Wake the na - tions at His ris - ing, Go ye forth the news to tell.

ring the bells! Ring, O ring the bells! Go, pro-claim the joy-ful tid-ings, Christ, the Lord, is sure-ly ris-en; Ring, O ring the bells! Ring, O ring the bells!
