

Beyond the Sea (Mashaw)

Frank H. Mashaw, 1900

Joseph Lincoln Hall

$\text{♩} = 85$

1. Be - yond the sea that rolls be - tween This world of
 2. Be - yond the sea lies Heav'n's fair shore, Where all of
 3. No more shall beat the flood of years A - cross these
 4. Be - ond the sea there's rest and peace; There Je - sus care and things un - seen, There is a land of end - less sin and earth are o'er; Where care and toil have passed a - forms so frail and worn; No more shall roll the sea of bids His child - ren come; Be - yond the sea the tem - pests

day Where all our tears are wiped a - way. Refrain
 - way; Where wea - ry feet no more shall stray. Be - yond the tears A - cross these hearts by an - guish torn.
 cease; There an - gels sing a "wel - come home."

sea, the rest-less roll - ing sea, I hear my loved ones gent-ly call-ing me; I soon shall leave the trou-bled shores of time And dwell for aye in that ce-les-tial clime.