

The Judgment

J. D. Eller, 1916

J. D. Eller

$\text{♩} = 92$

1. Are you rea - dy for the dawn - ing Of that
2. When the na - tions have been ga - thered From the
3. When the great tri - bun - al's o - ver, And the morn - ing bright and fair, When you'll see the Sav - ior com - ing With the land and from the sea, And the liv - ing been trans - lat - ed With their saved have heard "Well done," And are sing - ing hal - le - lu - jahs To the an - gels in the air? Is your life re - deemed and spot - less, Are your Lord for aye to be, And you stand at last in judg - ment, Know - ing Fa - ther and the Son, Will you be a - mong the num - ber, Pain and gar - ments white as snow? Could you wel - come now your Sav - ior, And with earth - ly ties are riv'n, Will a place of end - less ang - uish, Or a sor - row passed a - way, There to reign with Him in glad - ness Thro' one

Refrain

Him to glo-ry go?
 crown of life be giv'n? When you stand be-fore the throne, Will you bright e - ter-nal day? yes, when you stand be-fore the throne be un-saved, un - known? Or a - mong the pure and then will you be un-saved, un-known, yes, there a - mong blest Who shall gain e - ter-nal rest? the pure and blest yes, who shall gain e - ter-nal rest?